About HealthGates®

We believe that a "Treatment Delayed is a Treatment Denied"

HealthGates® is a high-tech prior-authorization solutions provider that helps doctors, pharmaceutical, insurance companies, and patients share important health information quickly and securely. We aim to change the slow-moving health data process by transforming health information to be more accessible and up-to-date for everyone involved in healthcare.

The HealthGates® workflow explains how we facilitate faster communication by connecting all the stakeholders - physicians, patients, insurance providers, and nurses. First, patients enroll by providing medical history and signing electronically. Next, physicians assess and prescribe medicines, suggesting alternatives if needed. Nurses then manage product administration involving pharmacies. Insurance authorization is requested electronically, and the system allows for feedback loops to modify treatment plans if needed. HIPAA compliance ensures data security throughout the process.
